PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The Clairton Cultural Community Service Center is $5.3 million, 48,000 square feet, three-story building sponsored by a private physician practice. This facility will be renovated into a community and public health center for the City of Clairton, located in the Mon Valley, south of Pittsburgh. The project consists of four core elements that when combined, will provide a multi-purpose venue for public health, community-based services and programming.
